I'm

a passionate, curious, imaginative and sensitive human who enjoys experimenting, exploring ideas and developing meaningful concepts in both independent and collaborative, interdisciplinary settings.

I'm fascinated by the world around me: people, beings, places, and the environments that shape us, and think spatially, socially and artistically. I'm motivated to design adaptable cities and landscapes that improve life quality for everyone.

"Un mundo donde quepan muchos mundos"

SKILLS

Reading cities and landscapes; translating ecology and theory into clear design ideas; working across digital and analogue tools; navigating complex urban challenges; communicating concepts visually and verbally; designing to connect people, nature and place.
